Contractor sues state transportation commission

BY MARY G. SEILEY
The Highway 603 construction project has been thrown into litigation by the contractor, with more potential lawsuits in the wings.

SCI Inc. of Biloxi has filed suit against the Mississippi Transportation Commission for an alleged breach of contract. The company is asking more than $3 million in damages.

Meanwhile, area legislators are demanding that completion work proceed on the 7.1-mile project, regardless of blame for its extended delay. And state officials say SCI's litigation may prompt state suits against some utility companies and the city of Waveland.

Work began on the 7.1-mile project to four-lane Highway 603 in October, 1992, based on a $7,882,100 contract. State officials now estimate the project won't be completed until fall 1995.

The core of SCI's case concerns construction delays caused by utility lines in the project's path — SCI contends that failure of highway officials to ensure relocation of utility lines delayed SCI's work. In addition, the suit claims the state failed to require that the utility owners properly mark utility lines.

The state, says SCI, also interfered with SCI's work on the project by directing the company to work in areas where utilities had been removed.

And highway officials refused to pay SCI for the additional costs, overhead and profit lost when the project stalled, the suit contends.

The company also says the state refused to give SCI "reasonable time extensions" to complete the work, or to release SCI from its construction contract, even though the contract contemplated such a release if the utility "conflicts" were not resolved as promised.

Part of the Highway 603 construction contract is a certification of the status of utility work the project would require.

Nine utility owners were listed, including Coast Electric Power Association, the city of Waveland, Mississippi Power Co., South Central Bell, AT&T, Kmart, United Gas Pipeline, Waveland Regional Wastewater and MultiVision Cable Co.

The suit does not say which of the utility owners were late in removing their lines from the 'Street Sweep' nets drugs

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

The Hancock County Special Operations Division has been busy doing "street sweeps" of the county, and following through on search warrants, which have resulted in numerous arrests.

Investigator Matt Karl with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department said the division will continue to perform the "street sweeps" wherever people congregate, and they will be looking for illegal drugs and firearms. He added they will have no particular day or time for this operation.

Three local bars hit in gambling raids

State officials confiscated nine slot machines and about $2,000 Saturday during raids on bars in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County.

Criminal charges of operating illegal gambling machines were expected to be filed this week against the bar owners and some employees. Owners also face potential suspension of licenses at a later hearing before the State Tax Commission.

Mark Smith, a Alcohol Beverage Control enforcement agent in Gulfport, said the criminal charges would be handled through the Hancock County Justice Court. Defendants were

Bay shoreline project set to begin Monday

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Five months after a projected start of construction, one local shoreline protection project is expected to be in progress Monday — while engineers go back to work on another.

Sumrall Construction Co. workers should begin work on an $886,000 project next week, building bulkheading and riprap revetments along two stretches of seawall in Hancock County.

Corps of Engineers project manager John Grandison said

Wednesday the commencement of work most recently had been hampered by the holiday season and a communications breakdown. Earlier delays were blamed on contractual negotiations.

"Now we're ready," said Grandison of the project, which includes construction of a timber bulkhead along a 1,000-foot segment of the seawall between Bay View Court and the Ulman Street pier area. Workers also plan to build a 1,400-foot riprap revetment in an area between Market and Favre streets in Waveland.

Grandison said the contractor has six months to complete the job, but expects to be finished before the tourist season begins in June.

Meanwhile, Corps' employees are going back to work on feasibility studies for constructing a bulkhead extending the city's seawall north of Bay View.

That project was endorsed by

Bay toddler killed in accident

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

A Friday night accident is still under investigation and no charges have been filed in which a 3-year-old child was killed as his mother was pulling away from a Bay St. Louis residence.

Martin Elzy Jr. was pronounced dead at Hancock Medical Center approximately 45 minutes after the 7 p.m. accident, Bay St. Louis Police Department detective Kurt Raymond said.

Raymond said that the child's father early in the day had taken the child and his 5-year-old sister to their mother's home.

"She was returning the children to the father at a member of his family's home. She said that she told the children to stay in the car, but they didn't," Raymond said.

The mother, Vanette Saucier, 25, went to the house, spoke to the father, and was returning to the vehicle. The father, Martin Elzy Sr., 26, of

 It's been a year now that you've went away. I still think about you each and every day. We had our times, good and bad. You were the best friend I ever had. We talked about a lot the years we spent apart. I still hold the memories of you within my heart. You were a dream come true the second time around. For it was a long-lost friend I finally found. Not long after that you were again taken away from me. That's not the way it was supposed to be. For we spent time together, every minute we had. And now I'm all alone, feeling sad. But I know there will be a day for us again. For it will be a day I find my long-lost friend.
 Love you always,

Johnson to seek Senate re-election

Bill Johnson

Senator Bill Johnson of Bay St. Louis announced he will seek re-election to represent Hancock and Harrison Counties in Senate District 46 in the August Republican Primary.

"I want to thank the citizens for allowing me to serve three years of the four-year legislative term, and I have decided to seek election for a full term in order to provide continuity in representation for our area," Johnson said.

"We have enacted many progressive laws for the Gulf Coast area and for the benefit of all the citizens of the state, but much remains to be accomplished."

"My constituents continually tell me they want less government regulation and interference in their personal lives and business operations. My number one goal has been and will continue to be to carefully monitor legislation to see that we do not burden our citizens with unneeded or costly regulations," Johnson said.

"I will also continue to work on cleaning up present laws that place a hardship on our citizens and that we could well do without."

He added he is particularly concerned with legislation to enable his district to keep up with its fast-paced growth in businesses while preserving its history and unique charm.

Johnson said the Coast counties have problems and needs which differ vastly from the rest of the state.

"It is critical to have a senator with experience and seniority in order to attend to these special needs. Experience and seniority count when it comes to prime committee assignments and when it comes to getting legislation enacted or killed."

"I am deeply appreciative of the confidence the citizens placed in me by electing me to this position, and I hope I have earned their confidence to return me for a full term. I continue to welcome all comments and suggestions regarding how the Legislature can best serve our district," Johnson said.

Mrs. Mae Tudury, civic leader dies

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Funeral services are scheduled this afternoon for Mrs. Theo A. (Miss Mae) Tudury, 93, longtime Bay St. Louis civic leader.

Miss Mae, who always had a smile as she walked Main or DeMontluzin Streets, was well known for her years of service to the community in so many endeavors.

In 1973 she was recognized for her 35 years with the National Foundation of the March of Dimes and was the first to receive the organization's award. She worked with the March of Dimes since its beginning in Hancock County.

Miss Mae took pride in the fact that she was responsible for 19 young Hancock County children being helped with their medical studies through the March of Dimes Career Awards. Several of these still practice medicine in Hancock County today.

Following are several comments about Miss Mae in a 1973 article in The Sea Coast Echo.

She worked with the Parks and Playground Commission for 16 years in the late '40s and '50s, only two years on salary. She served as chairman 13 years, during which time she planned, set up and supervised the cleanup, beautification and maintenance of nine new city parks.

She is probably best remembered by many for her key efforts in organizing the Bay St. Louis Little League baseball program.

As well as her many years of volunteer service with the March of Dimes, her work as Bay St. Louis Centennial Treasurer, 1958, she is remembered for her fund raising efforts for rebuilding the city pier, sand beach and road which sustained hurricane damage.

She was recognized by the community and named Citizen of the Year in 1958 and was named Woman of the Year in 1960 for outstanding work with youth.

She was a charter member of the Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 139; a member of the Coast Mental Health Association's board of directors for five years; committee chairman for the Hancock General Hospital Auxiliary (the Pink Ladies); president of the Ladies' Woodmen Circle for 12 years; president of the local North American Benefit Association chapter two years and chairman of the

Drugs

"We will continue to perform our street sweeps to try to eliminate some of the drug transactions in the county," Karl said.

Through a search warrant, two Bay St. Louis residents were arrested with 17 "quarter bags," which contained a quarter ounce each of marijuana.

Arrested were Raymond Rougeau, 40, and Leigh Ann Rougeau, 27, both of 1001 Lincoln, Bay St. Louis.

They were charged with possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute. They are currently out of jail on a $5,000 bond.

The Hancock County Narcotics Task Force assisted the Special Operations Division with these arrests.

In a separate incident, Steven Nance, 23 and Tammy Gamble, 32, both of Rd. 346, Kiln, were arrested and each charged with simple possession and growing and cultivating marijuana.

They were released on $5,500 bond.

These arrests stemmed from the issuance of a search warrant in which the Special Operations Division and the Hancock County Narcotics Task Force were activated.

Karl said five plants, paraphernalia, pipes and scales were recovered from the residence.

Specifically through the street sweeps a 17-year-old juvenile was arrested and charged with simple possession of marijuana, Karl said.

Also, Justin Iken, 18, 988 S. Beach, Bay St. Louis, was charged with simple possession and contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Iken was released on $1,500 bond.

"Several arrests have also been made of juveniles with drugs and guns," Karl said.

project's path.

Aside from the utility issue, SCI claims the commission breached its contract by failing to release SCI from its contract when supplies of required materials were unavailable.

The suit was filed Dec. 9. The state has been granted an extension of time to answer the allegations, until Feb. 10.

A week before the litigation was filed, highway District Engineer Richard E. Turner outlined the status of the project, and the problems it yet faces, in a letter to state Rep. Harry Frierson Jr.

"The project has been delayed by events beyond the control of the contractor or (the Mississippi Department of Transportation)," Turner said. "Relocation of utilities that were on the existing highway right of way were not completed until Oct./Nov. 1993.

"The presences of these utilities owned by South Central Bell, Coast Electric and the city of Waveland, severely restricted SCI's ability to work on the project," Turner said.

"Unusual weather patterns during the past two years also delayed the work on the project," Turner added.

Further complicating the project, he said, is an industry-wide shortage of building materials. "Specifically, hydrated lime necessary to chemically stabilize the earthwork is not available. It is not known at this time how long the shortage of hydrated lime will delay the process."

Since the stabilization work can't be done in periods of cold weather, said Turner, "there will probably be no further base work until March 1995. The project will need one more construction season to complete the work."

Turner said the project has been "a source of frustration for the residents of the area and the public that uses Highway 43/603.

"The contractor has been diligent in trying to complete this work, and I do not know of anything else that could have been done or can be done to accelerate the progress."

Frierson said Wednesday he was only partially satisfied with Turner's explanation. Earlier this month, he and Rep. J.P. Compretta and State Sen. Bill Johnson met with highway officials with this message: "Whoever's at fault, we don't care. We want the road fixed."

The highway department, said Frierson is "ultimately responsible" for seeing the project through to completion. "A lot of people didn't do their jobs."

'CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I received a telephone call from both a concerned mother and father who are residents of BaySide Park and are wanting the community to know that gangs are going strong in Hancock County.

They recently had a son who was inducted into a gang before the parents knew what was going on. The father said there are gangs throughout the county.

The couple want for some group, or agency to come forward and help them solve this serious problem of gangs.

They would like to see the community pull together and fight to remove gangs from the area.

They realize it may be too late for their son, whom they had to place in a mental hospital and are praying that he will come to his senses and return as a normal 14-year-old.

The mother says that gangs place a grip on a child a parent would not believe.

It all boils down to the necessity of the community coming together before more children become victims of gangs.

Who or what organization will take the lead? That is the question the parents would like to know. The parents emphasize the fact that they need someone in authority to stand behind them.

If you yourself, or if you know someone who needs a jacket, especially the young, the St. Vincent de Paul Society in Waveland could be the answer.

Jay Fleuriot called me Tuesday and asked if I would remind the citizens that the Rotary 'Give-A-Jacket' program has provided a supply of jackets for deserving residents.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society is located at 307 Coleman Avenue and is open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Saturdays, 10 a.m. until noon.

St. Vincent has a supply of jackets of all sizes for both male and female.

By the way, if you have an extra supply of jackets, K-Mart, Choctaw Plaza in Waveland, is still collecting them for the Rotary Club, who in turn forwards them to St. Vincent de Paul.

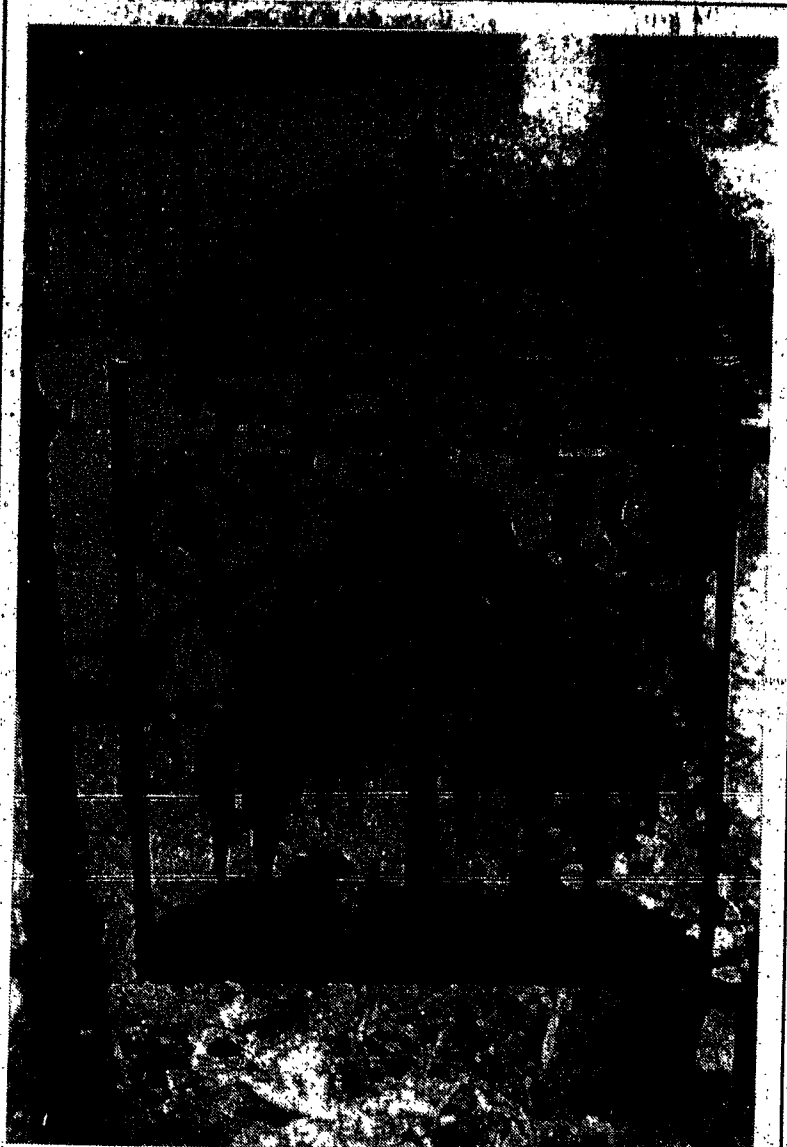

They are still running loose in Hancock County. I am talking about idiots who have nothing else to do but go to cemeteries and damage tomb stones, etc.

The latest victim is the Pearlington Cemetery, one of the oldest in this county.

The photo on this page is of an 18th century wrought iron gate that is missing. Tomb stones have been broken, vases, statues, urns, fences and gates have been broken or removed.

It just bugs me as to the type of people who would remove, damage and destroy items from the dead.

Anyone with information on whoever the culprits may be is asked to call the Hancock County Sheriff's office at 467-5101, or Crimestoppers, 1-800-433-TIPS.

Stolen

Vandalism is taking place now at the Pearlington Cemetery, one of the oldest in Hancock County. The photo shows a gate stolen recently from the Stoker family plot. The theft of several other gates, benches, urns and statues, along with headstones being broken and parts stolen, are being investigated by the Hancock County Sheriff's office. The Cemetery Association is offering a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible. All information will be kept confidential. Call the sheriff's office at 467-5101 or Crimestoppers, 1-800-433-TIPS.

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

Taylor pushes for true congressional reform

As many members of Congress push for symbolic reforms in the way Congress does business, keep a close eye on a true reform bill sponsored by U.S. Rep. Tim Roemer of Indiana. The bill will test just how far each member of Congress and the new Speaker want to go with congressional reform.

Representative Roemer's bill would take a constructive step toward reducing the deficit by encouraging all members of Congress to show a little fiscal responsibility. At the end of each fiscal year unspent Congressional House office funds would go directly to the U.S. Treasury to reduce the federal deficit.

I am an original cosponsor of the bill for the simple fact that for several years I have been frustrated to see money saved by my office reverted back to the Legislative Branch Appropriations Fund. There is no doubt in my mind, that money needs to go to reduce the deficit.

As most Mississippians are aware, I am very proud of the fact that I have turned back office funds each year since I have been in Congress. At the end of 1994 I had turned back nearly half a million dollars in office funds.

Unfortunately, at a time when Congress could use some fiscal sanity, there are members of Congress who continue to max-out their congressional spending allowances each year.

When questioned of this practice, most run for cover by telling critics that if they didn't spend it all, it would be transferred to "the speaker's slush fund." I believe this is a very weak excuse, especially at a time when many Americans have fallen on tough financial times and are out of work.

The Speaker has the privilege to use the unspent funds, which are placed in the Legislative Branch Appropriations Fund, to pay for other needed congressional expenses.

In the past I have often argued that funds returned by members should be earmarked to go directly toward deficit reduction.

The legislation is straightforward and simple. It would allow unexpended funds from each congressional office to be returned directly to the Treasury at the end of the fiscal year in order to reduce the federal deficit.

This bill would create an incentive for members to seek to reduce the cost of the operations of their offices, saving the taxpayer dollars and providing a much-needed boost to the credibility of Congress.

Advisory group seeks ways to keep business competitive

Fine-tuning Mississippi's laws to keep businesses competitive is what a statewide advisory group is asking the Legislature to do during the 1995 Session.

The Secretary of State's Business Law Advisory Group and legislative sponsors are proposing updates in four areas:

— Amendments to the Mississippi Limited Partnership Act to allow domestic limited liability partnerships;

— A revision of Mississippi Professional Corporations Act;

— Amendments to the major business laws to allow electronic filing and confidentiality of audit records.

The group is a successor to the 1987 Business Law Task Force formed by Secretary of State Dick Molpus to review the state's business laws. The result of the original task force's efforts was the 1987 Mississippi Legislature's adoption of the revised Mississippi Business Corporation Act and the revised Mississippi Limited Partnership Act.

The Business Law Advisory Group regularly reviews the latest developments in business, corporate, commercial and securities law in order to make recommendations to the Secretary of State for legislative changes that will keep Mississippi's laws competitive.

Senate sponsors of the proposals are Tommy Robertson of Moss Point, Joe Clay Hamilton of Meridian, Robert Johnson of Natchez and Bennie Turner of West Point.

House sponsors are Joe Warren of Mount Olive, Percy Watson of Hattiesburg, J. P. Compretta of Bay St. Louis and Eric Clark of Taylorsville.

PROPOSALS
Mississippi Limited Partnership Act — The amendment will allow domestic limited liability partnerships, which continues work done in 1994 on limited liability companies and foreign limited liability partnerships. The change will authorize Mississippians to use the limited liability partnership (LLP) form.
Mississippi Professional Corporation Act — This ver-

where the Cato person was living, so Cato could lead the policeman to it. Not two policemen, just this one policeman. We are taught to believe in our criminal justice system that a person is innocent until proven guilty.

So far the news media has had a field day with this case.

I just hope the jurors will be open-minded and judge this case by the evidence and not by what has gone on in the past.

If O.J. is guilty he had a lot of help. But until the prosecution comes up with more evidence against O.J. I will have to still think he is innocent.

No matter how this comes out, there are two little innocent children who will be scared for life.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Early history of county being destroyed by vandals

Dear Editor,
Vandals and thieves are destroying our history. What kind of people are among us? What kind of mind could hold so little of value as to enjoy smashing the memorials to our loved ones?

Pearlington Cemetery is missing iron gates and benches that can never be replaced. Broken stones and litter have marred this beautiful place, but we will not give up on our restoration project!

Pearlington was chartered in 1832, but its history goes back to the earliest habitation of the area. Earlier references indicate the existence of colonies of European origin in the 18th Century. Other evidence suggests habitation prior to the 1699 settlement of Old Biloxi.

On May 20, 1690, Pierre Le Moyne sieur d'Iberville left two young cabin boys near the present community of Pearlington.

They were to live with the Indians so they might learn the language and become interpreters.

One of these boys, Simon Le Favre lived with the Choctaw.

Favre not only became the principal interpreter between the French and Indians, but three generations of his sons served in this job.

Favre descendants are buried in the Pearlington Cemetery.

The once restored grave of Gen. George Henry Nixon, War of 1812, is now a dumpster. Planned memorial markers for the British dead of the War of 1812 will have to wait while we "clean up the mess."

We have worked very hard for the past 11 years to restore the cemetery, but our problems seem to multiply with each year.

Road repairs and drainage are long overdue, and now there are thieves.

"Lord, fling me a handful of stars!"

Walking track needs immediate attention

To the Editor:

My wife and I are regular users of the waking track adjacent to the Hancock Medical Center. We are deeply indebted to the Board of Supervisors and the City of Bay St. Louis and others who made this possible.

We find that in the last year or so, this track has deteriorated. The grass is growing over the asphalt, tree roots are showing, and there are spots that are sinking. After a rain there are large puddles, requiring the walkers to walk in the mud.

We feel that with a little bit of maintenance these problems could have been avoided.

We also feel that with the influx of Casino tax money, a small amount could be allocated for maintenance of the walking track.

Again, we want to thank the powers that be for providing this so that we elderly can maintain our good health.

Subscriber feels O.J. innocent of charges

Dear Editor,

After reading the papers and magazines and watching the coverage of the O.J. Simpson trial on TV, I cannot see how O.J. could have done the brutal crime of which he is accused. In my opinion the prosecution so far has only shown circumstantial evidence.

Right away O. J. was targeted as the culprit, because he and Mrs. Simpson had had several incidents where police were called, but nothing ever went any further.

Alleged spousal abuse is not a reason to be so sure the abuser is a murderer.

How can anyone think that a man, who is intelligent enough to amass a $10,000,000 fortune after a very successful NFL career, then be stupid enough to leave a glove at the crime scene and take another one home with him, drop it outside the place where the Cato person was living, so Cato could lead the policeman to it. Not two policemen, just this one policeman.

We are taught to believe in our criminal justice system that a person is innocent until proven guilty.

So far the news media has had a field day with this case.

I just hope the jurors will be open-minded and judge this case by the evidence and not by what has gone on in the past.

If O.J. is guilty he had a lot of help. But until the prosecution comes up with more evidence against O.J. I will have to still think he is innocent.

the Kiln High School and attended Pearl River Junior College. In 1960, he attended Hinds Junior College's Vocational School for Barbers and graduated in 1961.

After graduation Lizana began his barber career in Picayune and in 1967 purchased his own barber shop.

and all taxpayers," Perniciaro added.

Perniciaro continued, "I have been working in the school system since 1983 and since 1984 with the recreation department, and I feel this will be a help to me in serving as a school trustee."

The special election will be for qualified electors who reside in the City of Waveland and outside the corporate limits of Bay St. Louis in the school district.

Toups announces for supervisor

T. H. (Doc) Toups

Local journalist and publisher T. H. "Doc" Toups announced his candidacy Jan. 21 for the District 4 Hancock County Board of Supervisor's seat as an Independent.

The journalist-come-candidate, filing his initial candidate's paperwork said, "I am pleased to be first — and to date — only candidate filing for the seat." He added, "As a District 4 resident, I want to make sure that we have effective representation."

Toups said he would base his campaign around the issues of eliminating self-imposed salary increases and protecting private property owners' rights against onerous wetlands and sewerage regulations, which have hit District 4 residents especially hard.

He explained he wanted to make supervisors' raises subject to greater public review, as well as possible countywide referendum.

Referring to the supervisors' controversial $6,000 salary increase of last year, Toups said, "I pledge that in my first year of service, I will use that $6,000 to produce a free newsletter for District 4 residents and donate the balance to Hancock County charities."

Toups is publisher of The Hancock Reporter Magazine and formerly was a photo journalist for The Sea Coast Echo. He is married to Margie Toups and has one son Alexander, 7.

A native of New Orleans, he was a summer resident of Hancock County and has been a permanent resident of the county since 1989.

He is vice-president of the Hancock County Journalists Association, member of the National Rifle Association, Amnesty International, Chamber of Commerce, Hancock Gaming and Tourism Association and the Mississippi Power Squadron.

Toups' awards include, 1991, first place Best House Ad-Editorial; and first place, 1992, Best Picture-Story Combination for the weekly division from the Mississippi Press Association.

In 1993 Toups received the Judges Merit Award from the A Place of Art II and also designed the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce logo.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

It's time to go fishin' y'all.

Things were getting so desperate on the fishin' scene last week that the Turtle had to start delving into philosophy. I know that might sound a little strange, but all the fishin' buddies already know the Turtle is a "little strange."

Anyway, I came across this dude fishing on the pier at the end of Courthouse Road in Gulfport. To put everything in the proper perspective, I have to relate that the weather was miserable. It was cold and windy.

To compound the already bad situation, the tide was out so far, I think a new land route was available to go to Cuba. There was at least three or four inches of water at the end of the pier.

Well, anyway, here is this guy huddled up at the end of the pier, oblivious to the world with his line in the water, fishing. Naturally I became concerned about his mental condition and questioned him as to why he was out in such rotten weather conditions.

His answer contained an interesting bit of philosophy. He said, "The ole boy upstairs only gave us a limited number of days on this world. It would be a sin not to use the days he has given us to the maximum. Fishin' is obviously the best way to get the maximum use out of a limited number of days." That had to be one of the best pieces of philosophical advice I have ever heard.

I did not see any other fishermen on the several other piers along the Coast, so I went to the Small Craft Harbor in Gulfport and checked with the bait shops to get the lowdown on the fish.

My first stop was at Chuck's Bait and Tackle. I spoke to Ralph Case. Ralph had this "far away" look in his eyes and kept mumbling about how the seas better calm down soon. He was having a serious big-time attack of oil rig fever.

It seems that every time the weather permits, boats going to the deep rigs fishing for red snapper are getting their limits in pronto time. Ralph said the snapper just can't resist cigar minnows.

Ralph added a piece of additional information about the red snapper. He said they are not as deep as they usually are found. It seems they have come up to about mid-level. Instead of biting at around the 100-foot depth they are biting at the 50- to 60-foot level.

Additional reports were coming in of nice catches of trout around the "rock pile" in Chandealeur. Tuna are reported showing up at South Pass with an 84-pounder being brought in the other day.

Before I left Chuck's Bait they asked me to tell the fishing buddies that they have a good supply of cigar minnows on hand.

The next bait shop I checked out was Bob's Live Bait Shop, which is also located in the Small Craft Harbor. Wally gave me the scoop on the info they had for the fishin' buddies.

Pirates fall to Richton

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Pass Christian Pirates dropped two division games to Richton on Tuesday in Pass Christian.

In girls action, the Lady Pirates fell by the score 50-34. Richton jumped out to a 19-3 lead and were never challenged by the Lady Pirates. The half-time score was 32-14. Richton used a 16-5 fourth period to squash a Pirate comeback attempt in the third period.

Michelle Bowser led the Lady Pirates with 13 points. With the loss, the Pirates fall to 6-16 on the season and 2-5 in the division.

In boys action, the Pirates fell by the score of 73-56 on Tuesday night.

Pass Christian seemed to come unglued at the corners after jumping out to a 13-1 lead in the first period. Richton battled back and scored 23 points in the second period to make the halftime score 28-24.

Rickey Lewis scored 11 points to lead the Pirates. Willie James added 10 points in the loss. With the loss Pass Christian falls to 9-12 overall and 2-5 in division play.

OLA outrun by Greyhounds

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Our Lady Academy Crescents fell to the Ocean Springs Lady Greyhounds in high school girls basketball action on Tuesday night by the score of 67-30.

The Lady Greyhounds jumped out to a 19-8 lead in the first period and a 42-18 half-time lead.

Hyacinth Cappie led all scorers with 17 points. Jessica Keller added 10 points in the loss. OLA remains winless this year.

Fishing philosophy

They recommend fishing in the Bull Pen inside the harbor. The Bull Pen is where the ships turn around. It seems trout are being caught in the protected area, trolling.

The most productive baits for trout trolling in this area are reported to be the Chartreuse Grub, Motor Oil Tail, Glow White with Red Head and the Large Red Eye Jig.

Wally said to make sure and tell the fishin' buddies they are murdering the large yellow-mouth white trout right by the Copa Casino boat. The white trout have been responding to dead shrimp fished on the bottom. Apparently the spinning wheels and the rolling bone have created a magnet for the fish in this area.

Bob's Live Bait Shop has received a certificate for participating in the catch and release program. They sent in the tag from a red fish they caught in December.

The information they received from the DMR showed the fish was tagged around the Pop's Ferry area in April of '93, and it was 15 and one-half inches long at the time of the tagging. The red was alive and well in the wild for 594 days during which time it grew to 22 and one-half inches. Tagging can give the biologists some really good data to use in fisheries management.

The other area the Turtle checked out this past week was the Jourdan River area. The Jourdan River area is producing some nice catfish on trot lines baited with small goggle-eye perch. A few specks are being caught between the I-10 bridge and the area called the Lakes.

You gotta watch out if you do catch a fish in this area as a magic thing occurs as soon as you pull the fish out of the water; 50 boats suddenly appear right next to you.

This week's wonderful wise words: When the fishin' gets slow there is always philosophy!

How do you light up cigar minnows, Turtle?

Benefit dinner

There will be a benefit dinner Friday, Jan. 27 and Saturday, Jan. 28 for Mirissa Lyons, who is running for Mardi Gras queen for the Krewe of Real People.

The menu consists of red beans, rice, fried chicken, baked chicken, potato salad and cake.

The address is 515, Easterbrook St. in Bay St. Louis or call 467-0764 or 467-0437 for delivery.

Rocks bounce Bearcats 74-70

Moran ices game-winning shot

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws tallied a key win in the Division 8 Class 4A basketball standings on Tuesday night by defeating the home-standing Long Beach Bearcats 74-70. And they did it in exciting fashion.

In the early game, the JV Rocks defeated the Bearcats 58-41. SSC jumped out to a 13-10 lead in the first period and extended the lead to 30-20 at halftime. The JV Rocks never looked back in the second half.

The JV Rocks were sparked by the comeback of junior point guard Chris McQueen. McQueen nailed four three-pointers for 12 points in the game. Matt Roth was the high scorer for the Rocks with 13 points. Clay Williams added 11 points in the win. Other scorers for the Rocks were Correy Gex with 8 points and Mike Fenasci with 6 points.

The JV Rocks improve to 12-4 on the season.

In varsity action, the Rocks waited till the final :30 seconds to make the game a barn-burner.

SSC was down by one with 1:42 to go in the game. The Bearcats brought the ball down and held it till :36 seconds were left. Senior Rock guard Nate Middleton stole the ball and took it across halfcourt and called time out.

The Rocks set up their play which went to senior swingman Vince Moran at the top of the key for a three-point attempt. Moran iced the shot and the Rocks were up by two.

Long Beach inbounded the ball and drove the court and attempted a three-pointer; however, the Rocks' big man Terry Lawyer swatted the shot away. Nate Middleton rebounded the ball with :02 seconds left and the Bearcats committed the foul. Middleton nailed the two charity shots and the Rocks sealed the victory.

The Rocks jumped out to a 25-20 lead in the first period and fell behind 44-38 at halftime. The Rocks narrowed the Bearcats' lead to one at the end of the third 59-58. In the fourth period, the excitement started.

Vince Moran was the top scorer for the Rocks with 24 points and 5 steals. Moran hit four 3's and scored 15 points in the first period. Terry Lawyer added 22 points and 13 boards. Brian Thigpen added 10 points in the win. Brandon Benoit dishied out 6 assists to go with his 7 points.

Jay Ladner commented, "It was a big win, huge win! We had lots of players make the big plays for us at crunch time."

With the win the Rocks improve to 17-9 overall and 7-3 in the division.

The Rocks will host d'Iberville in a key divisional matchup on Friday at the Brother Peter Memorial Gym.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

Let the good times roll

MARDI GRAS

Diamondhead is well into all sorts of Mardi Gras festivities honoring their majesties from the Krewe of Diamondhead, Queen Lou Lamdendola and King Henry Kibler, and the Boaters Association Krewe of Kamehameha, Queen Terri Downie and King Harold Turner.

The Boaters Association staged its elaborate coronation ball Saturday, Jan. 21 at the country club.

Past kings and queens in attendance were presented, and honorary merit was given to Curtis Stout for his loyalty and service to the organization since its inception.

King Harold and Queen Terri, in a splendid purple velvet beaded gown, were escorted into the ballroom by Commodore Tim Holt, Vice-commodore Kathy Wood and 1994 Queen Gloria Gasper, all in white.

The orchestra brought many to the floor for dancing, while others enjoyed the menu of petite fillets prepared by Brenda and staff.

The ball for this group is on Saturday, Feb. 11.

MORE

The Krewe of Diamondhead's Mardi Gras ball is Saturday, Feb. 18, and their parade is Saturday, Feb. 25.

Theme this year is "Festivals of the World," and all are welcome to participate. Please call Chris Arnos at 255-7297 for information.

SERVICE ORGANIZATION

Some of the things on the "needs list" are: reins, griths, special riding helmets, saddles and pads, etc. Most needed is a wheelchair ramp to be made so the disabled may mount and dismount the horses.

Barbara Kaiser, RN, spoke of her project at the last Lions Club meeting in Diamondhead. "Gaits to Success" is at 16520 Landon Road, Gulfport, MS 39503, or call (601) 832-5629 for information.

Consider a helping hand and giving your support to this worthwhile cause.

DON'T MISS IT

FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Diamondhead Fire Department has a new automatic defibrillator to use on heart patients requiring emergency treatment. Another great plus for our Diamondhead Fire Department is the new enhanced 911 system being installed in the radio room.

We can't thank all these guys enough for all the good they do for our community.

ACADEMY HAPPENINGS

Sincere congratulations to Principal Cal Rogers, staff, teachers and students of Diamondhead Academy for "Leaping its bounds," growing to "making the grade" on Coast classrooms, a Monday, Jan. 23 feature in the Sun Herald.

The academy is a private school which has grown a lot since moving out of trailers and into their permanent building. We wish them well as they progress and the students excel.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE

What is that you hold in your hand? Nothing you say? Look again. Every hand holds some special gift — a hammer, a broom, a pen, a hoe, a scalpel, an artist's brush, a needle, a microscope, a violin bow, a way with words in the giving of faith and hope. What is that you hold in your hand?

Whatever your gift may be, it can open your door to abundant life—you hold in your hand the key.

Love one another, stay warm and well, and have a great week. Happy Superbowl Day.

Remains of woman in buffer zone identified

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
The bones of a woman found in the buffer zone have been identified.

It has been determined by forensic pathologist Dr. Paul McGarry, that the woman was Rosa L. Raley of Jackson County, Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said.

"Raley was reported missing by her husband, Jack, in April to the Jackson County Sheriff's Department. It is believed that she was last seen alive in Biloxi," Peterson said.

McGarry had determined that the remains were of a white female, between the ages of 40 and 50 when the bones were first located.

"Until we know otherwise, we are considering foul play involvement. We have been working to find out her identity. Now, we are working to find out what happened to her," Peterson said.

Peterson said that Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda, Hancock County Coroner Norma Stiglett will be coordinating their investigation with the Jackson County Sheriff's Department.

Woman dies in one vehicle accident

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER

Sharon H. Edwards was pronounced dead at the scene after the pickup truck she was driving collided with two trees Friday night on Fenton-Dedeaux Road.

Edwards, 33, Kiln-Delisle Road, Kiln, was taking home her niece, Tammy Hinton, 20, Fenton-Dedeaux Road, when her vehicle left the roadway.

"She was not speeding. Her tires went off the roadway and she over compensated and jerked the steering wheel too hard to the left. When she did the truck went at an angle and hit the first tree," Staff Sgt. Corky Hoda with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department said.

From that point, Hoda said, the vehicle hit a second tree and came to rest on its side partially in the roadway.

The roof of the cab was sheared off of the 1986 Nissan pickup, Hoda said.

Hoda, Sgt. Norman Willette and Hancock County Sheriff's officer Tim Broder investigated the accident.

NABA group that furnished $2,200 for a chapel at Hancock General Hospital.

Miss Mae not only spearheaded the efforts to raise money for the chapel, but she helped promote the building of the hospital.

She had been committee chairman for the Hancock County United Fund (United Way); vice president of the Hancock Blood Bank four years and a volunteer for ten years; treasurer of the Cancer Crusade; a member of the Heart Fund, Red Cross, Crippled Children's Associations, St. Joseph's Parents Club president three years, during which time she helped organize the SJA Carnival Ball; chairman of many committees of the St. Stanislaus Mothers Club and an organizer of the Harvest Ball, which helped raise funds for band uniforms and a bus; a member of the Friends of the Library for the City-County Public Library; member of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, where she won the Best Actress 1952 Award.

In an interview several years ago, Mrs. Tudury was asked why she was so interested in the March of Dimes fight against Birth Defects and in so many other health and medical associations.

Her reply was, "Because I have been so blessed with my family, it is simply my way of saying, Thank you, dear Lord."

A native of Mount Olive, Miss., Miss Mae was a resident of Bay St. Louis for 77 years.

A 3:30 p.m. prayer service will be held this afternoon at the Edmond Fahey Funeral Home Chapel, Bay St. Louis. Friends may call one hour before the service.

Bay St. Louis, picked the child up and walked towards the vehicle also, Raymond said.

Raymond said that the couple had been arguing over who was going to keep the children that night. The couple is separated.

"We don't know if the father put the daughter down or exactly what happened, but she ran over and was standing with another relative. The father placed the little boy in the back seat of the car and was leaning across the front arguing with the mother, and she pulled away in her vehicle," Raymond said.

The door where the child was sitting was open, Raymond said, and it is unknown whether the child fell out or was trying to get out of the car at the time of the accident.

The child was hit by the rear wheel of the vehicle.

An autopsy has been performed, and the department is waiting for the results.

Bay well repairs approved

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Bay St. Louis city officials approved a $17,565 emergency expense Monday in the wake of a breakdown at the Harry Street water well.

The expenditure includes purchase of a new pump and motor, and the repair of a spare motor for the well.

Last week, the well's pump failed. While that didn't endanger the city's ability to provide water service, officials said the problem had to be corrected as quickly as possible to keep the city's overall capacity up to par.

The pump that failed was installed, used, in 1982, with a capacity of 750 gallons per minute. Mayor Eddie Favre said Monday the new pump will have a capacity to pump 1,000 gallons per minute.

Griner Drilling Service, Inc., was hired to analyze the well, and install a new pump and electric motor, for some $13,500. The spare motor will be repaired by Bay Motor, city officials said, for some $4,000.

Lyons said, "We urge all citizens concerned about Highway 603 to attend the meeting this afternoon with Commissioner Shows."

Bay

Bay St. Louis City Council on Monday over the protests of council member James Thrifflay.

Thrifflay said council had no authority to act on the matter, because the subject hadn't been advertised as an agenda item. Tuesday, however, city officials said the action was confirmed as proper in the opinion of the state Attorney General's office.

Thrifflay expressed concerns of some property owners in the area that the project will result in loss of title to the private lands which have eroded between the roadway and the water. That's because the new bulkhead, built by the existing shoreline, will define the line between public and private ownership.

Mayor Eddie Favre and council members Charles Scianna, Thomas Favre and Tad Black, however, said much more than private property ownership is at stake — if dramatic erosion of the past several years continues, officials fear the publicly-owned roadway will collapse.

"Sooner or later, something's going to happen to that road," warned the mayor. He added that if the Corps backs off from the bulkhead project, the city ultimately would be responsible for replacing the collapsed route.

The controversy has three-year-old roots. Watching their property vanish with every storm, residents of North Beach Boulevard hired engineers to suggest a private solution to the problem.

A year ago, the property owners petitioned City Council and the Board of Supervisors to back their quest for federal and state permits to dump fill in the eroded area.

Both governments gave that project their blessing. But when the Corps inspected the area during the permitting process, officials decided the problem was so severe that it warranted a "permanent solution," rather than a temporary fix.

Later, the property owners learned that the emergency project would feature a bulkhead near what's left of the shoreline. That would mean, the Corps said, that all property east of the new bulkhead would become public property.

Recently, the property owners petitioned the Corps to drop their project altogether. And the Corps asked the city to take a formal position on the issue.

Faced with the threat of a Corps' pullout, Favre last week asked for a meeting among the property owners, the city and the Corps, to resolve the issue.

Thrifflay, however, objected to holding such a meeting until city staffers and council could meet to clear up what he said was "confusion" over the series of events and related beach-front renourishment and seawall rebuilding plans.

Favre presented council with a lengthy memorandum on the bulkhead project, prefaced by a comment that the memo was intended "to simplify, for those who attempt to make this difficult."

Scianna said the property owners' concerns about exactly where the bulkhead will be built most probably will be settled in court, as a title dispute between the Secretary of State's office and the affected land owners. Meanwhile, he said, the bulkhead would eliminate further erosion.

"I just hope it's funded before a hurricane comes," said Scianna. The Corps has heard "nothing but objections" to the project lately, he said. "It's either we want it, or they pull out."

Thrifflay asked that the city contact the Secretary of State for clarification of the property title issue, and then hold a meeting with the landowners, before taking a position on the Corps' project.

Other members of council rejected that suggestion, saying the Corps may back off entirely from the project in the meantime. If the bulkhead is built under the federal program, officials said, federal funds will pay for 65 percent of its costs.

Favre said the other 35 percent most likely can be obtained from the countywide seawall tax fund.

One Beach Boulevard landowner asked that the city give the project its blessing.

"Go ahead and get something done," said Harold Battalora. "We can fight with the Secretary of State" later. Battalora said the problem has been studied and discussed for years.

"Now, it's gotten to be a crisis," Barbara Blanchard, who owns a home near Beach Boulevard, said the city has to address the larger interests of the public at large, despite the private property owners' concerns.

Grandison said Wednesday the city had notified him of council's endorsement of the project. Design is expected to be completed by May, he said, with the project under contract by September 1995.

The project had been on hold temporarily, he said, until the city affirmed its backing as a sponsor.

to be given a chance to voluntarily appear at court, he said, avoiding formal arrest.

Smith and agents of the state Gaming Commission were joined by officers from the Bay St. Louis and Waveland police departments and the Hancock County Sheriff's Office in executing search warrants simultaneously at three locations: Benigno's Bar on Blaize Avenue in Bay St. Louis, the Knock-Knock Lounge on Highway 90 in Waveland, and the Brass Anchor Lounge in the unincorporated area west of Waveland.

Smith said the warrants were based on information gathered in an undercover operation that began in December.

Four illegal gambling machines were confiscated at the Knock-Knock and another four at the Brass Anchor, he said. One such machine was taken from Benigno's.

In addition, records and a total of $2,000 were taken from the three establishments, he said, all related to the machines.

Smith said agents and police also confiscated some Super Bowl gambling pool sheets at the establishments.

The investigation was based on complaints and information received by the ABC, Smith said, concerning video slot machines and one video poker machine.

Bar owners or their employees were paying clientel based on the number of points accumulated on the machines, Smith said.

Saturday's raids culminate the current investigation, Smith said, although he added: "We'll come back in a couple of months."

ASK THE V.A.

By Donald Mauffray

One of the unpleasant eventualities in life is the possible death of the veteran. The trauma, grief and confusion during such an unfortunate occurrence, can be minimized by proper preparation.

All families should keep certain papers and documents within easy access. Among these are:

- Veterans Service Discharge (DD214)
- Spouses' and children's birth certificates
- Marriage certificate
- Any document that might show a veteran's VA claim number
- Insurance policies
- Social Security number for all family members
- Any divorce decrees
- Location of any safety deposit box

BURIAL BENEFITS

Every veteran is entitled to burial in a National Cemetery, as long as space is available. Burial in a National Cemetery can be arranged by calling the superintendent of the cemetery. Biloxi National Cemetery, P. O. Box 4968, Biloxi, MS 39535, 388-6668 or 1-800-296-8872.

There is no charge for such burial, but the government does not pay the cost of transportation for family members who attend the funeral.

Spouses and minor children are also entitled to National Cemetery burial, as long as the veteran has been or will be buried in the same cemetery. The spouse or minor children may be buried prior to the death of the veteran, if the veteran signs a statement that he/she will be buried in the same grave.

Every veteran is entitled to have the flag of our country to draped the coffin. Most funeral directors have a flag readily available. The flag can also be obtained by visiting the County Veterans Service Officer on Main Street, across from the Bay St. Louis Courthouse.

Every veteran is entitled to a government-provided headstone or marker for the gravesite. The funeral home or County Veterans Service Officer will help you complete the application.

When buried in a national cemetery, the grave marker is automatically provided and set in place by the government.

Veterans in receipt of compensation or pension at the time of death are entitled to a burial allowance of $300 to be made toward funeral expenses.

Patients in a VA hospital, VA-funded nursing home or domiciliary may also be eligible. Before explaining the following benefit, it should be remembered that the money received from the VA for a service-connected disability is called compensation. The money received from the VA for a non-service-connected disability is called pension.

Things to do . . .
before the veteran dies

If the VA determines that the death is service-connected, the burial allowance can be as much as $1,500.

All veterans are entitled to a burial plot allowance of $150.

To be eligible for the aforementioned benefits, a person must be classified as a veteran by the VA. Duty in the armed forces does not always constitute veterans status.

Contact your county service officer if there is any question of the veteran's status. Also, the only disqualifying military discharge for these benefits is a dishonorable discharge.

PRCC football coach search continues

The search is continuing for a new head football coach at Pearl River Community College.

President Ted Alexander said he expects the five-person "Search Committee" will have 35 to 40 applicants to screen for the position, which was left open when Willie Coats resigned last week.

Coats accepted the head coaching job at East Central Community College Jan. 10. His PRCC record over the last four years included 28 wins, 13 losses and one South Division title. His 1992 Wildcats finished the regular season with a perfect 10-0 mark.

No application deadline has been set, however, replacement is expected to be presented to the Pearl River board on Feb. 14.

Alexander said no names will be released. He did say there had been a lot of inquiries from very successful high school and community college coaches and from senior college assistants both in and out of state.

According to existing records, Pearl River has won 415 games, lost 191 and tied 23. The Wildcats have posted eight victories or more in 22 seasons. In addition, PRCC has five overall runner-up titles and three South Division crowns to go along with a record 14 overall championships.

The Crusaders outscored the Lady Pirates 20-8 in the third period.

Michelle Bowser led the Lady Pirates with 10 points. She was followed by Mandy Theobald with 9 points.

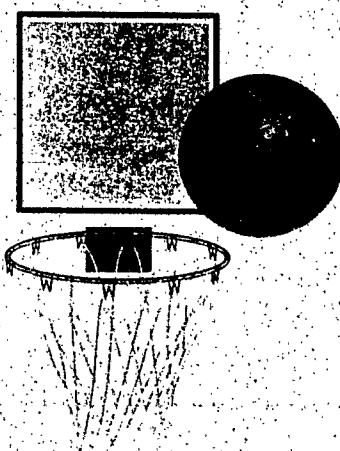

Connie Landry and Shawn Morris led the Lady Crusaders with 13 points each. Susie Patterson added 12 points in the win.

In boys' action, the Pirates claimed a 64-61 win over the Crusaders.

It was a close game throughout the contest. The halftime score was 32-29 in favor of the Pirates and that proved to be the difference. The Crusaders matched the Pirates basket for basket in the second half.

Willie James scored 20 points to lead all scorers and the game for the Pirates. Rickey Lewis added 12 points in the win.

Wildcats come up a little short against the Bobcats

For the second time this season, the Pearl River Community College Wildcats came up a little short against the Jones Bobcats Thursday.

Earlier in the year, Jones defeated the Wildcats by two points in overtime. Last week, the Bobcats edged the Wildcats by four, 84-80.

Pearl River, 11-8 overall and 3-4 in the division, led the 19-1 and 10th ranked Bulldogs 47-40 at the half.

"We played about as well as we could play for 35 minutes," said PRCC head coach Richard Mathis. "The game was a little too long."

The Wildcats were cruising with a six to eight point advantage when Jones' 6-8 center started stepping outside and hitting three-pointers.

"First you would think that was a good sign when their big man was having to score outside the circle," said Mathis.

"The problem was he hit four threes."

Mathis said his Wildcats went cold for a few minutes during the time Jones was hitting from long range.

"We had trouble matching up with their big players across the back line," said Mathis.

Mathis said he was really pleased with the Wildcats' effort. "To play Jones to four points and lead most of the game on their court pleased me," said Mathis.

Conley Verdun scored 26, Donnie Johnson 23 and Jimmy Cuyler 21 for the Wildcats.

Jones is undefeated and leads the division. After the Bobcats, things are pretty even between Gulf Coast, Co-Lin, Southwest and the Wildcats.

Tournament seedings will be determined during the next two weeks of regular season action.

The Wildcats travel to Perkinston to take on the Bulldogs today. East Central is on tap for the White Coliseum Monday, Jan. 30.

The Wildcat game will be broadcast live over radio station WLUN-FM 95.3.

Powell sisters lead Lady Wildcats over Jones

Pearl River Community College's Karen Powell stole the show from her All-American sister Thursday night at Jones Junior College.

Instead of Elaine Powell, the nation's leading scorer, walking away with her usual scoring accolades, it was the older Powell who burned the nets.

Karen, who is averaging 15.3 points per game, hit a career high 37 points to help the Lady Wildcats post an 88-80 South Division victory over rival Jones.

Elaine, who is averaging 31.3 points per outing, needed 25 points and 19 rebounds.

Karen made five of seven three-pointers, seven two-pointers and eight from the free-throw line. She also picked up 15 rebounds.

Pearl River led by 13 points early in the first half, but Jones cut the lead to eight at the half.

The victory kept the 13th ranked Lady Wildcats in a first place tie with East Central in the division. Both teams are 6-1. Close behind is Co-Lin with a 5-1 division mark.

The Lady Wildcats are scheduled to play Gulf Coast at Perkinston Thursday, Jan. 26. The next Monday, Jan. 30, the Lady Wildcats tangle with East Central on the Poplarville campus.

Caronica Debose of Hattiesburg is averaging 13 points per game, and Alberta Travis of Poplarville is hitting for almost 10.

Lady Wildcat basketball games are carried live over radio station WLUN-FM 95.3.

CEHS splits with Westminster

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
The Coast Episcopal Red Raiders split games with Westminster Academy on Friday in Opelousas, La.

The boys defeated Westminster 47-41, and the girls fell 52-37.

In girls' action, the Lady Raiders fell behind early and the halftime score was 26-17 in favor of Westminster. The fourth period was the deciding period as Coast Episcopal was outscored 17-8.

Monica Speights led CEHS and all scorers with 22 points. Speights also added 7 rebounds and 5 steals.

In boys' action, the Red Raiders improved to 24-2 on the season with a 47-41 win.

The first period ended in a 7-7 tie and the Raiders took a slight lead at the half 19-16. It was a defensive struggle but CEHS won out by narrowly edging Westminster in the third and fourth periods.

Dwayne Kennedy scored 14 points to lead CEHS. Lamar Price added 13 points in the win. Price pulled down 16 rebounds and Kennedy grabbed 11 boards.
